

2022 Notice of Funding Availability (NOFA)

Overview

Guided by RHA's Theory of Change, the Recreational Vehicle Safe Lots RFP is intended to extend Seattle's continuum of comprehensive, person-centered solutions for people experiencing homelessness who reside in RVs and other large vehicles. The RHA expects to award funds for projects that will:

- Ensure people living in recreational and other large vehicles have safe accessible places to park and overnight their vehicles.
- Provide safe alternatives to street-based vehicular encampments for people that connect vehicle dwellers to effective exits to permanent housing.
- Promote system transformation to transition individuals out of vehicles and into permanent housing.

Additionally, the RFP applicants may apply for one or more RFP categories relevant to their organization's area of expertise. RFP application categories will include:

- Site Development
- Program Operations
- Behavioral Health Services
- Housing Search Services
